Program: - Covid 19 field survey

H.S.B.P.V.T's GOI, faculty of Engineering Kashti organizing the covid 19 field survey on date 13/5/2021 so that no. of NSS students participate in this program 50. The COVID-19 pandemic has, in a few months, changed and shaped the world by affecting people's lives in an unprecedented manner. The impact of COVID-19 is cross-generational and has affected everyone in different ways. Although the health and socio-economic crisis generated by this pandemic has mostly affected elder populations and those with pre-existing health conditions, the effect of COVID-19 on youth should not be neglected. Most people make a full recovery without needing hospital treatment. For those with COVID-19 who are at high risk of severe illness, WHO has made recommendations on which drug treatments are effective in improving outcomes and preventing hospital admissions. It is also important to be vigilant in recognizing people with severe disease and those needing hospital treatment so that they are treated early. In rare situations, children can develop a severe inflammatory syndrome a few weeks after infection. During this survey students went door to door and collected information about covid 19, in which they collected information about how many people in house received positive, which treatment they should taken and whether they received vaccine or not.
