Prof.Dhotre R.A. Programme Officer of the NSS unit briefed the volunteers regarding the activity. The NSS volunteers were divided into five groups, these groups carried out the drive H.S.B.P.V. T's GOI FOE Kashti always motivates students for different activities that will be helpful to nature and also helpful socially. During the pandemic students are motivate by tree planting. Each students planted at least single tree at thire home. Tree planting is recognised as one of the most engaging, environmentally-friendly activities that people can participate in to help the planet when done properly. Trees provide numerous long-term and short-term benefits. They not only look nice, but they also remove and store carbon from the atmosphere, slow heavy rain and thus reduce the risk of flooding, improve air quality, and reduce the urban heat island effect by reflecting sunlight and providing shade.

NSS students of H.S.B.P.V. T's GOI FOE was helps to police in the period of covid 19. The helping drive is arrange on date 19/6/20 in this activity 10 NSS voluntiers participated They work with police in both the shifts Day as well as night. The police force has experience in investigation and this skill of police is required for tracing the people affected with the virus. this contact tracing has been and still is very important in this time of the rapid spread of the infective virus as the health sector struggles to manage its resources and reach. The police have done contact tracing by drawing the backward and forward linkages of the affected people, by decoding the pattern of catching the virus, and by identifying those coming in contact with the affected persons. In the investigation of contact tracing of the COVID-19 affected persons, the basic investigation skills of police have proved as a valuable resource.
